Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1, 3-8 and 11-15 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art Kocher et al. (US Application NO. 6,278,783 B1) of record discloses, a method and apparatus for improving DES and other cryptographic protocols against external monitoring attacks by reducing the amount (and signal-to-noise ratio) of useful information leaked during the processing.

The prior art Luyster et al. (US Application NO. 6,182,216 B1) of record discloses, a cryptographic system and method which uses data-dependent rotation with a novel iterative calculation which is robust. The robust quality of encryption using this method resists attacks by sophisticated algorithms which detect and take advantage of weak subkeys to determine the keys of the cryptographic system.

However, prior arts taken singly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the following limitation:

As per claim 1,

"the output data item being manipulated by instructions in at least a first three rounds and at least a last three rounds, and wherein said method includes the steps of forming a first group comprising at least the first three rounds and another group comprising at least the last three rounds, and implementing the first group and the last .group with an execution sequence using the other manipulation means in at least some round".

As per claim 12,

"the output value being manipulated by instructions in at least a first three rounds and at least a last three rounds, said algorithm further comprising the steps of forming a first group comprising at least the first three rounds and another group comprising at least the last three rounds, and implementing the first group and the last group with an execution sequence using the manipulating means in at least some rounds".

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
